Your customers will love our titles! P.D. Publishing, Inc. is a lesbian owned and operated publishing company based in North Carolina. Lesbian literature is our specialty, but we are interested in serving the needs of the entire Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender community.

We are not a vanity publisher; our authors do not pay us to publish their books. We pay our authors competitive royalties and are selective when considering manuscripts for publication. Once contracted, the manuscript is professionally edited and typeset to our company's standards.

At this time we are unable to sell books to you directly, but we hope to do that in the not-so-distant future. Our titles are distributed through Ingram Book Groups and Baker & Taylor, and ASP Wholesale at a 40% cover price discount to booksellers (except noted). P.D. Publishing books ARE returnable!

We want to offer products which support all bookstores, particularly the smaller, independent stores. Please let us know if there are ways to make our books easier for you to carry on your bookshelves. We included an abbreviated listing of our available titles and soon to be released titles. Please visit our website, www.pdpublishing.com, for more information concerning each title.
